The Self Improvement and Social Service Club scored a great triumph in the dancing party given at Fern hall last Wednesday night. For years the Self Improvement Club has stood in the fore rank as an organization of distinct merit and class. Generous in its charities and benefactions, ever alert and eager to do some good turn it has won a name for itself that all Colorado loves to honor. The dancing party of Wednesday night brought out a host of loyal friends, beautifully gowned ladies and well groomed gentlemen. The hall was daintily and prettily decorated in a rare mixture of baby blue and white and the soft glow of the shaded lights lent a weird, fantastic charm that suggested a fairy land. The club members held a receiving line for one hour, headed by the president, Mrs. J. H. P. Westbrook. The whole affair was delightful and will live long in the memories of every one present.

The Biggest Vault Door in the West

The new safe deposit vault door is the latest product of The Mosler Safe Co. of Hamilton, Ohio, and is a thing of beauty as well as strength. It will face the broad staircase which descends directly to the vaults from the main lobby.

The new SAFE DEPOSIT VAULT of The First National Bank is now ready for the installation of the largest rectangular safe deposit vault door in the entire West. In fact, there is only one other door of similar type as large as this in the United States.

The door, in connection with the massively-built walls of the vault itself, confers upon The First National SAFE DEPOSIT BOX DEPARTMENT a degree of protection hitherto undreamed of in this section of the country. For that matter, there is nothing in New York or Chicago to excel it; possibly none to equal it.

One has to revise ordinary ideas of size in considering the magnitude of this great portal. It weighs approximately 60,000 pounds; thirty tons of chrome steel, easily capable of withstanding the utmost excess of fire or fraud, burglary or banditry, riot or revolution.

It is one of the most costly pieces of mechanism ever brought to Denver, but the record of this bank for over half a century shows that cost is of no consequence here when considering SAFETY and SERVICE for our patrons.

Make your reservations now for boxes in this new department, which will be opened for use MARCH FIFTEENTH. Boxes of all sizes at reasonable rentals. The safety is absolute.

CHEYENNE, WYO. NEWS

Quiet and more peaceful is our city than it has been for many moons. The natives are attending church services on Sunday and reading the Bible during leisure hours. In vain has the reporter tried to find somewhere a sensation could be raised. For once during many moons Cheyenne don't amount to much. Everybody who we have reported ill are improving. Those who are well are going to try to stay well. Those who have not behaved well are behaving like they should. Society matrons are not entertaining at cards or pink tea. Several men are idle, but still have their liberty and Victory bonds, besides a bank account, so they stand on the corners and watch the "mud hens."

IN MEMORIAM.

In loving memory of my dear son and our brother, C. W. Pearson, who departed one year ago, Jan. 28th. Gone but not forgotten. But, oh, how we miss you from our home. We are sitting all alone since you have departed, and in our hearts there comes a longing for you, wishing we could see you once more, if you only could come home, how our hearts would rejoice. But our loss was heaven's gain. Mrs. Susannah, Pearson, Mother.
Mr. John H. Pearson and Mr. George M. Pearson, brothers.
Miss Ella and Emma Pearson, sisters.
