

CITY GLOBULES.

A warrant was issued yesterday for the arrest of a delinquent named Carrie Moore, on the charge of disorderly conduct.

The allowance of an invalid pension claim for $755.47 and a widow's for $2,656.67, was received by Adjutant General Van Cleave yesterday.

Chief Weber received a telegram from Oskala Lake yesterday, requesting that Patrick Shinnery, under arrest for larceny from the person, be held until the citizens of that place send particulars.

The first of the second series of entertainments, under the auspices of Champion Lodge No. 18, K. of P., will be held this Thursday evening, February 3, at College hall, corner Third and Wabasha streets.

About 5 o'clock last night Officer De Corsey ran across a lumber drunk at the corner of Third and Jackson streets. He was too full to navigate and was steered to the tower with the assistance of Officer Clouse.

The harlots were before Judge Burr yesterday, and paid their blood money for February. Unlike the former practice, in which the fine was governed by the number of inmates in the house, they were fined $50 each, or a total of $850.

Charles Wilson ambled into the police court yesterday, with his optics draped in mourning and evoked out a warrant for the arrest of Andrew Ecklund, charged with laying on the color.

The mass temperance meeting this evening, at the hall of the legislature, should be attended by all friends of temperance and home protection. All persons having petitions with signatures are requested to bring them to the meeting.

Judge Brill was engaged yesterday in hearing the case of Eve Lamprey against James Carr and others, in which action is brought to restrain defendant from quarrying stone on Robert street. The case was taken under advisement.

Among the passengers on the Duluth train which arrived at 10:15 last night was an invalid named J. O. Cook, of Mission Creek, stricken with epilepsy. He carried a certificate from a physician at Rush City and was taken to the hospital.

The case of A. R. Cupchert against James King, in which action was brought for $1,750 damages, for alleged neglect and failure to execute a judgment, was given to the jury about noon yesterday. The jury returned a verdict about 5 o'clock in favor of the plaintiff, assessing his damages at $949.37.

While patrolling his beat on Seventh street yesterday afternoon, Officer Nygaard placed under arrest two tramps who were beastly drunk and had in their possession two new buckets which had undoubtedly been stolen. One of the men, P. W. Ryan, was before the court yesterday morning, and on the statement that he was not a "confessional," he was ordered out of town.

"The Red River Roller Mills," is the name of a company, articles of incorporation of which were filed with the secretary of state yesterday. The stated object of the corporation is dealing in grain, with headquarters at Fergus Falls. The incorporators are P. H. Kelly and Norman W. Kittson, St. Paul, and Andrew G. Tod, of Fergus Falls, who constitute the first board of directors and officers. The capital stock of the association is $75,000.

"I'm not a 'confessional,'" said P. W. Ryan, a tramp, who, storm-tossed and unseaworthy, drifted over the shoals of life yesterday morning into the police court. His actions showed that he was unused to facing the front of justice. The wind blew him outside, and the snow eddied and drifted into great white mounds, yet he preferred this freedom, than enforced shelter in the county jail. He promised to leave town if released, and was ordered to go.

Last week a seedy personage named Chas. Smith, belonging to that order of itinerant gentlemen known as tramps, was (up for vagrancy. He promised to leave the city if discharged, and with this understanding he was released. The walking was not good enough for his nose, however, and he wasn't quite as keen in going as he might have been. He was arrested again and yanked before the court yesterday morning. This time he went up for 30 days, which in view of the snow storm, he rather relished.

To point a moral or adorn a tale your ordinary harangue on temperance is a tame institution alongside of the scenes witnessed at the morning sessions of the police court. The weakness of humanity for its bug juice is daily illustrated to an extent that reflects anything but credit on the vaunted dignity of him who the poet said was but a little lower than the angel. The victims to run who faced his razor yesterday were James Brady and Wm. Charles. Both had indulged in tangle-foot toots and they pleaded guilty. They were sent to the bastille for five days each.

According to the turkey-bone prognostication there is to be a let up of the villainous weather and in this connection the source of their mystical inspiration, the ground hog, is entitled to a send off. The adage runs that if the ground hog, in coming from his habitation on the 2d of February, should chance to see his shadow, the sluggish crawls into his hole again and remains shut up for six weeks longer. As there was no chance for a ground hog or any other fellow to see his shadow yesterday, the porcine grunter will remain and enjoy the fine weather consequent upon the hadow act.

Among the fallen women arraigned at the police court yesterday to be assessed their monthly fines was Kate Hutton, generally known as "Long Kate." A sadder comment on the results of a life of shame it would be difficult to imagine. A year ago the baggio conducted by this woman was closed on the grounds of its being a disorderly house, since which her quarters have remained partially closed. She was arrested yesterday charged with renting her rooms to girls of evil repute. On taking the stand she wept bitterly and related a touching story. Her physical condition being such as to prevent her from performing work, she is deterred from entering respectable society, while she is precluded from the poor privilege of associating with her sinful sisters. She cannot sell the house, the authorities say she must not open it herself or let it for sinful purposes, and should girls be found in the house she is threatened with a fine of $100 and thirty days in jail. Truly, the way of the transgressor is hard.

MISS LAURA W. HALL has been giving music lessons in this city for nearly three years, and has met with a measure of success that is very cheering.

Her pupils and their parents without an exception have expressed entire satisfaction with her instruction.

She was for a series of years a pupil in Ohio of an accomplished and highly educated German professor of music.

The foregoing statement is made preparatory to the announcement that, as her work is increasing rapidly, she has associated with herself an assistant teacher, MISS GRACE VANCE, her niece, a young lady whose musical endowments and proficiency adapt her for the profession. Miss Vance has also enjoyed the valuable instruction of the German professor alluded to above, and is meeting with very gratifying success as a teacher.

Miss Hall tenders her most grateful acknowledgments to the people of St. Paul who have kindly favored her with their patronage and encouragement, and she and her assistant pledge unwavering assiduity in advancing the pupils in musical studies, and in deserving a continuance of public approbation.

Their mode of teaching will be in entire harmony.

No change has been made in the moderate and reasonable price of tuition. Terms given upon application either at the residence, or by the teachers, who will call upon any who will notify them by postal card, or otherwise, of a desire for an interview.

Lessons given at the residence of pupils or teachers as may be desired.

Pupils not at present in possession of an instrument of their own can have the use of a piano for practice at the teachers' residence at a small additional charge.
