EVERY WALK IN LIFE.

A. A. Boyce, a farmer, living three and a half miles from Mo., says:
"A severe cold settled in my kid-neys and developed so quickly that I was obliged to lay off work on ac-count of the aching in my back and sides. For a time I was unable to walk at all, and every make shift I tried and all the medicine I took had not the slightest effect. My back continued to grow weaker until I began taking Doan's Kidney Pills, and I must say I was more than sur-prised and gratified to notice the backiche disappearing gradually until it

PIFTY AND DOUGHNUTS

A baker in a town near Boston has asked for a license to sing in the streets. He peddles doughnuts, and a hymn goes with every one. Certainly, he ought to be allowed to sing as much as he and his customers like. For his object is to evangelize the community, and when he is about to deliver a doughnut he delivers a short talk on the need of salvation and a stanza of some uplifting verse. should go without saying that he is a should go without saying that he is a conscientious baker and gives full weight and plenty of sugar; that he does not fry his products in rancid lard, or dust it with whitewash, or put the fresh ones on top when he is to sell them by the peck, leaving the gnarly nubbins at the bottom of the measure. Therefore, he predisposes the recipient to thankfulness and sanctity, and module on his heat has any objection to body on his beat has any objection to mixing dough and religion. It might be well if the custom could extend it-self. If Mr. Rockefeller would only be well if the custom could extend itself. If Mr. Rockefeller would only sing hymns as he draws oil for his customers, instead of preserving the hymns for Sunday, and if Mr. Carnegie would accompany the hammering of plates with gleeful hallelujahs, there might be less feeling against the trusts, and if the walking delegate would go about his work with a psalm instead of a jimmy and a blackjack we could almost like him. If piety can be associated with doughnuts, once the symbol of dyspepsia, what can't it assymbol of dyspepsia, what can't it as sociate with?—Brooklyn Eagle.

BOOK OF BOOKS.

Over 30,000,000 Published.

An Oakland lady who has a taste for good literature, tells what a happy time she had on "The Road to Wellville." She says:

'I drank coffee freely for eight years before I began to perceive any evil effects from it. Then I noticed that I was becoming very nervous, and that my stomach was gradually losing the power to properly assimi-late my food. In time I got so weak that I dreaded to leave the houseand stomach. I attributed the trouble to anything in the world but coffee, of course. I dosed myself with medicines, which in the end would leave me in a worse condition than at first. I was most wretched and discouraged—not 30 years old and feeling that life was a failure!

"I had given up all hope of ever enjoying ayself like other people, til' one day I read the little book "The Road to Wellville." It opened my eyes, and taught me a lesson I shall never forget and cannot value too highly. I immediately quit the use of the old kind of coffee and began to drink Postum Food Coffee. I noticed the beginning of an improvement in the whole tone of my system, after only two days' use of the new drink, and in a very short time realized that I could go about like other people without the least return of the nervous dread that formerly gave me so much trouble. In fact my nervousness disappeared entirely and has never returned, although it is now a year that I have been drinking Postum Food Coffee. And my stomach is now like iron—nothing can upset it!

Last woek, during the big Con-clave in San Francisco, I was on the go day and night without the slight-est fatigue; and as I stood in the immense crowd watching the great par-ade that lasted for hours, I thought to myself, 'This strength is what Pos-tum Food Coffee has given me!'" Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

There's a reason. The little book "The Road to Well-ville" may be found in every pkg. BOMB AIMED AT KING

MARGUERITE CODY DIES.

Aunt of Buffalo Bill Found Dead in Her Room at Denver.

Aunt of Buffalo Bill Found Dead in Her Room at Denver.

Denver, June 1.—Dead in a bare little room at 3010 Lawrence street, where she had passed her last days in poverty, Mrs. Marguerite Cody, aunt of "Buffalo Bill" Cody, was found Sunday morning by neighbors who had supposed her last illness to be nothing more than a temporary weakness.

From one of the richest women in Colorado, Mrs. Cody, whose name became known all over America through her connection with an attempt to blackmail the estate of Jay Gould, had been so pinched by destitution that at the age of eighty-five she had been compelled to sell pins and little trinkets to keep from starvation.

It was shortly after the death of Gould, when the multi-millionaire's estate was to be settled, that Mrs. Cody achieved notoriety that would have ended in her being sent to Sing Sing had not Helen Gould interfered.

A Central City woman arranged with Mrs. Cody to palm herself off as the mother of a child of Gould. According to the evidence in the case Mrs. Cody was to support the claim of the other woman by evidence substantiating her acquaintance with the financier.

The sum demanded was $50,000.

Both women stuck to their stories. Mrs. Cody going to New York to fight the claim. Helen Gould, however, refused to compromise and the case went to the courts. There it was speedly thrown out and the two women were accused of conspiracy.

The interference of Helen Gould saved them, however, and Mrs. Cody again returned to Denver. In recent years her mind seemed to have weakened regarding the Gould case and at the rare intervals she spoke of it it was in a way that showed that she was irrational on the subject.

One of the first pioneers of Denver, Mrs. Cody achieved prominence in the city in many ways. She was a resident of Denver for more than forty-five years and at one time was reputed to be worth $200,000. Property in what is now the business portion was held by her. Reverses came, however, and one by one her possessions passed from her. For the past decade she has

Washington, June 1.—President Roosevelt yesterday authorized the announcement that Charles J. Secretary Shaw has already indicated his intention of retiring from the Cabinet. Rumors of Attorney General Moody's retirement have been published, but it is known to be his intention to remain in the Cabinet.

To all except President Roosevelt's closest advisers the announcement of the selection of Mr. Bonaparte as the head of the navy came as a distinct surprise, although it has been deter-mined on by the President for some time, in anticipation of Mr. Morton's retirement.

Topeka, Kan., June 1.—The Equal Rights Society, a Kansas negro organ Rights Society, a Kansas negro organization, at a mass meeting here last evening passed resolutions condemning the Republican party for the passage of the legislation for separate high schools at Kansas City, Kansas. An effort was made to include in the resolutions a criticism of Governor Hoch, but this was choked off by the more conservative delegates. Nick Chiles, a prominent colored politician, led the fight on Governor Hoch.

What a satisfaction it is to through life radiating sunshine a nope instead of despair, encoura sunshine and what a satisfaction it is to go through life radiating sunshine and hope instead of despair, encouragement instead of discouragement, and to feel conscious that even the newsboy or the bootblack, the car conductor, the office boy, the elevator boy, or anybody else with whom one comes in contact, gets a little dash of sunshine. It costs nothing when you buy a paper of a boy, or get your shoes shined, or pass into an elevator, or give your fare to a conductor, to give a smile with it, to make these people feel that you have a warm heart and good will. Alcolohl Light.

Alcolohi Light.

Wood alcohol is coming into quite general use for lighting in France and Germany, where it is as inexpensive as kerosene. The alcohol is led to a special burner by a wick, which does not require trimming, and with a small Welsbach mantle in a slender glass chimney, a smokeless and steady light of forty-five candle power is produced. This very brilliant light can be regulated perfectly and is quite odorless.

Do You Feel Chilly, Then Feverish and Ache all Over?

Feel Worn-out, Blue and Tired? Have You a Fresh Cold, With Frequent Hacking Cough? Sensation of Soreness in the Chest or Back?

Don't let your cold run into chronic bronchitis or pneumonia. The very best tonic alterative and body-builder at this time is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Made without alcohol or dangerous drugs, and it contains that rare combination of roots and herbs that will allay a cough (irons it out, as it were), restores the circulation, assists the appetite and digestion, and consequently restores tone to the entire system. That is the reason people look happy once more after taking it—they feel like living, because their liver is active, the blood in their arteries is full of that life-giving quality—rich, red blood. The blood in turn feeds the nerves.

Nervousness and neuralgia are only the indication that the nerves are not fed on invigorating blood. This "Medical Discovery" of Dr. Pierce is nature's own invigorating blood. This medical Discovery" of Dr. Pierce is nature's own invigorating blood. The blood in turn feeds the nerves.

Save the Babies.

NFANT MORTALITY is something frightful. We can hardly realize that of all the children born in civilized countries, twentytwo per cent,, or nearly one-quarter, die before they reach one year; thirtyseven per cent., or more than one-third, before they are five, and one-half before they are fifteen!

We do not hesitate to say that a timely use of Castoria would save a majority of these precious lives. Neither do we hesitate to say that many of these infantile deaths are occasioned by the use of narcotic preparations. Drops, tinctures and soothing syrups sold for children's complaints contain more or less opium, or morphine. They are, in considerable quantities, deadly poisons. In any quantity they stupefy, retard circulation and lead to congestions, sickness, death. Castoria operates exactly the reverse, but you must see that it bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. Castoria causes the blood to circulate properly, opens the pores of the skin and allays fever.
