RED LETTER SALE.

It is the custom of a great many Clothing Houses, when the end of a season comes, to take all the old chestnuts that have laid on their shelves since the days of the "bull teams," pile them on a counter and offer them at "great bargains." Now, with us it is different. At the end of a season our buyer goes to market and there buys just exactly the same goods he bought at the beginning of the season for about one-half the amount he paid for them at that time Our buyer is now in mark+t and has shipped us per express as large a stock of flannel and percale shirts and underwear as any other house in Helena carries at any season of the year. Do not fall into that common error of thinking that because goods are cheap they are no good, for a single examination will convince you that you are mis-

the blow with his left hand, striking the justice the second time on the back of the head. Nagle continued: "I was on my feet in an instant. Throwing out my right hand to keep Terry off, I shouted, 'Stop that, I am a United States officer.' Terry then directed his attention to me. He had his right arm in position as if to deliver another blow, and as he turned his glance on me he looked like an infurlated beast. His clinched fist immediately sought his bosom. Believing my life in danger I immediately drew my pistol with my left hand, and catching it with my right fired two shots in quick succession and Terry fell to the floor. I believe Terry would have cut me to pieces, and perhaps Justice Field, if I had not acted promptly. I knew he had always carried a knife, and I believed he had one on him then.
