Joseph P. Woolman and W. A. Chessman, the reception committee, introduced the visitors to the governor, who warmly shook each one presented by the hand. A number of ladies were among the visitors, with whom the governor chatted pleasantly and made a favorable impres-sion. The reception lasted from 8 o'clock until 9:30, and during that time Gov. White showed himself to be a genial, pleasant man. It was regretted by those having the reception in charge that more citizens did not call, but when it was realized that the affair was not announced until yesterday morning, no fault could be found. BUSINESS FINISHED.

The Grand Army Strike Their Tents and March Home.

Owing to the fact that the Grand Army veterans held a bakquet Tuesday night, the closing business of the encampment was not entered into until yesterday morning, when a quorum turned up in good shape. The business to be done was to select a place for holding the next encampment, and Livingston was decided upon. Delegates elected for the national encampment at Milwaukee, where Ed. S. Ferris, of Bozeman, and Vining A. Cook, of Boulder; alternates, Simon Hauswirth of Butte. and E. A. Kreidler, of Miles City. The date for the next encampment was not fixed, but it will be duly announced by the administration committe The newly elected officers were installed by the mustering officer, Col. J. D. Jenks. Commander Calloway announced that department headquarters for the ensuing year would be at Bozeman.

This closed the business of the session.

The committee appointed to devise a medal to be worn at the national encampment have almost agreed upon an Indian, a cac tus plant and Montana's motto, "Oro y tus plant and Montana's motto, "Oro y Plata," as the emolems. A suffi-cient number of the medals will be secured that all Montanians who ap-pear at the headquarters of the Montana delegates will be presented with one, no matter whether they are veterans or not. Upon the conclusion of the encampment Major Palmer, of the motor line, extended an invitation to the warriors to ride on his railroad and see the sights. The invitation was cordially accepted and two cars could scarcely hold the party. Broadwater's hotel and summer resort were first visited and much admired. Nick Kessier's mamand much admired. Nick Kessier's mammoth brewery was stopped at on the return trip and Nick turned the brewery over to the veterans. The trip was highly enjoyed and the party returned just in time to catch trains bound for their respective homes, whither they went, but not without expressing gratification at the royal manner in which they were entertained by Wadsworth post No. 3 and the hospitality of lielena generally.

A copy of the semi annual report of the directors of the Montana company (Limited), operating the Drum Lummon mine, has been received through the courtesy of Superintendent R. T. Bayliss. Luring 1887, 75,005 tons of ore were crushed the gross yield being $2,040,674, white in 1888, 83,745 tons were treated, yielding only $1,094,598, showing a decrease of $946,676. The total expenditures for 1889 were $552,257.09, a decrease of $94,364 over 1887. During the past year the ore treated was of lower grade, but it costs just as much to treat it as though it were high grade. The average cost of mining and milling per ton for the half year of 1888 was $6.44, a decrease of $2.71 per ton. In the 60-stamp mill, dry crushing, the average cost per ton has only been $1.13, which, Mr. Bayliss says, renders it poss bie to derive a fair margin of profit on exceedingly low grade ores. The total lineal deingly low grade ores. The total lineal development for the year was 22,998 feet. There are 215,852 tons of reserve ore in sight. Another dividend will be paid on April 15, of $60,000. Altogether the mine is in a flourishing condition, and the amount of ore in sight is a greater exhibit than any mine has ever heretofore displayed. In the report the directors tender their sincere thanks to Mr. R. T. Bayliss for his zealous and able services, as well as all members of the staff.

Regulations of the Fortification Board o Interest to inventors.

WASHINGTON, April 10. - The Army Fortification board, which has been holding sessions at the war department during the winter, has drawn a set of rules to govern tests of experimental guns. The act creating the board provides that it shall prescribe the dimensions and method of testing guns of ten or twelve inches calibre that may be submitted by private parties, and if any gun offered shall fulfill the requirements, as to accuracy, range, power, endurance and general efficiency, the gun and ammunition (which is to be furnished with the gun) shall be paid for at a fair valuation, including the cost of transportation. A contract is also to be made at reasonable prices with the party presenting the best of such guns for a furannual meeting Tuesday and elected di-ther supply. The board has accordingly rectors for the ensuing year. They are: formulated the following conditions, which the trunnions be twelve inches in diameter a rich average grade. Secretary Vawter says the ore will run fifty ounces silver to the ton, the cost of mining and milling being about half. The proposition was discussed, but not acted upon, to erect an additional quartz mill of thirty stamps. At present a twenty-five stamp mill is working, but late developments are such that increased facilities for treating ore will pay. Whether the company will decide to put up this new mill will be known very soon, as it is being seriously considered, and if they do it will give new life to the town of Eikhorn. The probable cost would be $150,000. Eikhorn. The probable cost would be $150,000.

On Saturday, May 15, the stockholders of the Maginnis Mining company will hold a meeting to bear a proposition from the directors to sell, lease or otherwise dispose of the Oro Cache mine and extension, the Montana mine, together with certain real estate, milis and mili sites, buildings, merchandise and all the company's property. any material modification of construction be made during the trial, at least fifty rounds with full charges shall be fired thereafter. The weight of the projectile to be be used with full charges shall be about 750 pounds. Three hundred rounds of amunition shall be a proper amount to be supplied with a gun for a test. As a proof of general efficiency, the breech mechanism should work freely and be convenient for operating, the opening and closing of the breech to be performed without any great difficulty by one man. Projectiles shall admit of being readily handled, inserted and entered in the bore, and not be subject to injury or deformation, either in handling or transportation. The rapidity of a fire of fifteen rounds per hour shall be attainable, using such appliances as are employed by the ordnance department of the United States army. The repairs allowable during the entire trial of the gun, exclusive of the insertion of the lining of the tube, with the insertion of the lining of the tube, will be confined to the repairing of the renew-ing parts injured during the trial. No al-terations that may affect the general con-struction of any part will be made without the sanction of the board.

For a twelve inch gun the weight is to be about fifty-two tons, bore thirty-four calibres long, and it is desired that the trunnions be 14.5 inches in diameter and 42.8 inches between the rim bases. In the case of the territory against Theodore Milroy, for the killing of Patrick Dooley, the grand jury returned an indictment in three counts, viz: one for murder in the first degree, one for murder in the second degree and one for manslaughter. A demurrer has been sustained to the two last counts, which leaves the indictment with only one count, charging murder in the first degree. two last counts, which leaves the indictment with only one count, charging murder in the first degree, which is practically the same, however, as if the other counts were in, because under this count the jury can find a verdict for any lower degree of homicide. The defence has filed an application for a continuance of the case till the next term, and the application is set for hearing on Saturday. There are also three other indictments in the court for assaults with intent to murder, growing out of the Dooley-Milroy vendetta, but they are not likely to be tried at the present term, the murder case overshadowing the others.
